The laptop was used 2007-2009 and is no longer useable and has zero scrap value. Cllr Thurston extracted the memory module (which might fetch ~£5 on e-bay) . The disk is readable and contains a small amount of sensitive personal information (payroll details from 2009 etc) and an archive of photos and other council business documents from the same period. It is in a labelled red envelope in the council safe in case it is ever needed."
